Theodore Parker.

In the recent letter of THEODORE PARKER to his congregation in Boston, written since he has been abroad, he gives the following account of his peculiarities as a preacher:

In my preaching I have used plain, simple words, sometimes making what I could not find ready, and counted nothing unclean, because merely common. In philosophic terms, and in all which describes the inner consciousness, our Saxon speech is rather poor, and so I have been compelled to gather from the Greek or Roman stock forms of expression which do not grow on our homely and familiar tree, and hence, perhaps, have sometimes scared you with "words of learned length." But I have always preferred to use, when fit, the every-day words in which men think and talk, scold, make love, and pray, so that generous-hearted Philosophy, clad in a common dress, might more easily become familiar to plain clad men. It is with customary tools that we work easiest and best, especially when use has made the handles smooth.

Illustrations I have drawn from most familiar things which are before all men's eyes, in this field, the streets, the shop, the kitchen, parlor, nursery or school; and from the literature best known to all—the Bible, the newspapers, the transient speech of eminent men, the talk of common people in the streets, from popular stories, school books and nursery rhymes. Some of you have censured me for this freedom and homeliness, alike in illustration and in forms of speech, desiring "more elegant and sonorous language," "illustrations derived from elevated and conspicuous objects," "from dignified personalities." A good man who was a farmer in fair weather and a shoe maker in foul, could not bear to have a plow or a lap-stone mentioned in my sermon—to me picturesque and poetic objects, as well as familiar—but wanted "kings and knights," which I also quickly pleased him with. But for this I must not only plead the necessity of my nature, delighting in common things, trees, grass, oxen and stars, moonlight on the water, the falling rain, the ducks and hens at this moment noisy under my window, the gambols and prattle of children, and the common work of black smiths, carpenters, wheelwrights, painters, hucksters, and traders of all sorts.

A young man named Barney Gilday was struck by lightning Monday near Scottsville, and instantly killed.

Last Sunday afternoon a boy named Anthony Bierbier, aged 12 years, was drowned in the Erie Canal, in the town of Gates, Monroe Co.

The Paris correspondent of The Globe says:

"The only incident reported from the quadrilateral scene of war is the balloon ascent of M. Goddard before Peschiera, who has accurately inspected the present state of the works, the distribution of the garrison, and the nature of the approaches on every side. Gasbags, brought up from Genoa in compartments had been launched on Lake Garda, (30th June)"

At the Fourth of July celebration in Ironton, Missouri, Capt. JOHN HALL, one of Marion's men, was present. He is a native of North Carolina, and will be 99 years of age on the 21st of September next. He supports himself by making brooms and baskets, and has never received a pension though he fought gallantly during the Revolutionary war, and distinguished himself at the battle of Guilford Court House, N. C., March 15, 1781, where he was made Lieutenant of a company.

John Remmer and his wife Barbara Remmer were arrested at Cincinnati for cruelly whipping their child, a lad about thirteen years of age. It seems that he did not sell as many bunches of matches during the day as they told him to, and when he returned home one held him and the other flogged him with a leather thong. They took turn and turn about this until the child's back presented a fearful sight.

The Buffalo Commercial says the preliminary of a prize fight for $2,500, between Australian Kelly and Ed. Frost, a Boston bruiser, have been arranged, the contest to take place in October next.

About the Crops.

A correspondent of the Rochester American writing from Tecumseh Mich. Says:—

You may let your millers know that we have raised one of the finest crops of wheat in this county, Lenawee, that has been raised for many years. The berry is very large and clear, the straw free from rust and mildew. It is far before anything I ever raised or saw in the Genesee valley during a period of thirty years farming there. Those who wish to secure a fine quantity of wheat will do well to pay us a visit and see what they can do. We have large warehouses, railroad depot, &c., for shipping at all times. The cost to Buffalo is 8 or 9 cents per bushel. Western funds will buy but a small part of this year's crops. The farmers are all busy in housing their fine harvest.

The Crops in Canada West.

A recent trip from Suspension Bridge through Hamilton, Paris and Goodrich, enables us to state that the condition of the wheat crop in that region is unusually promising. In several places the harvest was commenced last week, but the cutting will not be general until the middle of this week; and it will be still later in the northwestern portion of the region indicated. The anticipations of the most hopeful are more than realized, and the panic of a few weeks since has entirely subsided. Instead of anticipations of famine and distress, the prospect of a bountiful harvest lightens the hearts of the people. There are drawbacks from the fly and frost, but in spite of these there is a large crop. In some localities there is scarcely any corn. This is particularly true of the county of Bruce on Lake Huron, where the frost was very destructive. Potatoes were put back, and are seriously injured. The hay crop is very light, and the farmers will feel obliged to save everything which will answer to feed their cattle. But with every drawback, the present harvest will materially advance the condition of the people of Canada West. In a portion of the country between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay, the settlers have been reduced to nearly the point of starvation, and have been subsisting upon supplies of flour, &c., at high prices, and from a long distance. But they are rapidly emerging from this gloomy state of things, and have brighter prospects before them.—Rochester Democrat.

A young lady of named Calista Robinson, daughter of A. Robinson, of South-west Oswego, N. Y., was killed by lightning on the 14th of July. An eye-witness describes the catastrophe as follows: The house was filled with smoke and the floor covered with plastering from the walls, and the parents almost distracted. I immediately sent for Dr. Place, who arrived in about an hour after the catastrophe. In the meantime the youngest (aged 6 or 7 years) began to show some signs of life—but the deceased was killed instantly. She was a young lady aged about 16 years, uncommonly active and full of animation. She was struck on the head, badly burning her hair, also the sun-bonnet which she was wearing. The lightning ran down the door-casing, tearing it off and striking the girls, who had just ran there and clung together through fear of the terrible flashings.

An adjourned meeting of the American State Council is to be held at Geneva on the 24th of August. The Auburn Union states its objects as follows:

"It is to be held for the consideration of all questions involving the principles and policy which are probably within the purview of the order, but more particularly for the purpose of consulting in reference to the nomination of a State ticket, to be supported at the ensuing election.—This will be an important meeting, and upon its results, we believe, hang the fate, not only of the American, but of the Republican and Democratic parties in the State. The Americans hold the balance of power, and as they shall vote with one or the other of the parties, so will go the election of State officers."

The ladies of Milan are exhausting their ingenuity upon pleasant combinations in their dress of the tri-color. A white bonnet, with a profusion of blue berries, green flowers and red ribbons, is rather trying to some complexions, but they are plentifully worn. The more credit is due to the pretty Milanese for thus sacrificing the becoming to the patriotic. Nor is this good disposition confined to the ladies. A twenty little girl, the attendant on a couple of itinerant musicians, says a letter, came collecting coppers last evening from the persons sitting outside a cafe. She, too, would not be behind the times, and her begging-box, fresh painted, was gay with the tripple tint.

A young lady up town was cured of palpitation of the heart the other evening by a young M. D., in the simplest and most natural way imaginable. He merely beckoned her hands in his, put his arms round her waist, and whispered something in her left ear.

NEWS AND MISCELLANY.

It is through inward health that we enjoy all outward things.

A second crop of oats has been raised this season in the vicinity of Fort Smith, Arkansas.

The laborers on the Erie Railroad dock at Piermont have struck for wages and stopped work.

Mr. A. D. Richardson, the Kansas correspondent of the Boston Journal, who accompanied Mr. Greeley to Pike's Peak is at Cincinnati.

Mr. La Mountain, who is still at Watertown, expects to make an ascension in a balloon thence on the 27th inst.

The daily war expenses of France are estimated at 3,000,000 francs, of Austria at 1,200,000 florins, or each at about $600,000.

An English paper states that "a sheep gave birth to a lamb in Cambridge, lately, belonging to a widow lady with six legs and fine wool all over her head."

A letter from Pike's Peak says that gambling and whiskey drinking flourish there extensively. Tanglefoot whiskey sells for 25 cents a drink, and "it will almost make a man shed his toe nails."

A French soldier of the Voltigeurs, who in the battle of Solferino had his right epaulet shot away, and the right leg of his pantaloons pierced, writes home to his mother that "the enemy didn't wish to do anything to him but what was right."

Mr. Eugene Fuller, of New Orleans, and for a long time news and commercial reporter of the New Orleans Press, was lost overboard from the steamer Empire City, on her last trip to Havana. Mr. Fuller was a brother of the celebrated Margaret Fuller, Countess d'Ossoli.

A young man said recently, in rather a pert way, to the Rev. Dr. C.,—"Doctor what is the difference between this puseyism they talk so much about and puppyism?" "Why," replied the doctor, "puppyism is founded upon dogmatism, and puseyism on the cat-ecism."

Curry, the murderer, whose sentence has been commuted by Gov. Morgan to imprisonment for life, passed through Rochester on the 14th of his way to Auburn State Prison. The Rochester Union says: "The man did not act like an insane man on the cars, and so far as his sanity can be judged of by appearance, he is as sane as the most of people doing right and wrong in these days."

The proprietors of the Detroit and Milwaukee Railroad have authorized the erection of a force pump and convenient troughs in a building near their depot in Detroit, for the purpose of accommodating passengers with gratuitous ablutions, where they may bathe and cleanse themselves with pure and refreshing water, after a long ride in the cars. Dressing rooms are also to be added.

The morning after the French occupation of Milan several journals that had been suppressed by the Austrian government, re-appeared. One had been suppressed five years, and in the last number had promised the "conclusion" of a story in the next. True to promise, the next, at the end of five years, took up the story where it had been left off, and concluded it.

The Petersburg Express says the following is a letter recently received by a clergyman in that city, through the Post-Office:

"Riverent, sir, I forbid the Bands of Marriage between Edward Blunt and Mary Ann Howell the reason is he is under age, and she have got a husband alive and she went away from him; He is in Carolina, and she is with her unkeil, so you cannot Marry them sir, and Dorwent."

THE GROVER & BAKER

Sewing Machine Co.

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINES, with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE, PRICE $50.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FULL, GATHER, AND STITCH in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made, that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS may readily learn to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTY HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR.

In there a husband, father, or brother in the United States who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?
